OCEAN SKY LARK

Words by Pearl L. Colvin

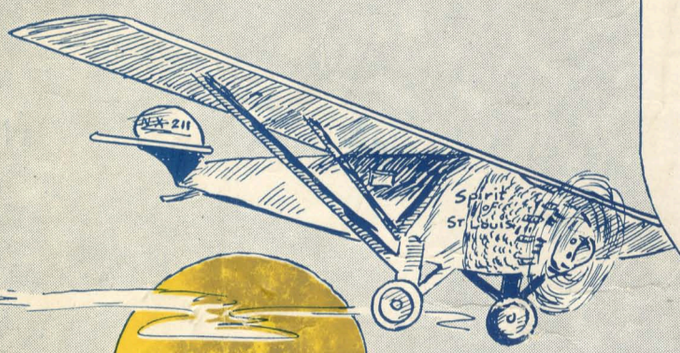
Music by
Harry Jay



P. L. Colvin 302 E. N. Ave., Olney, Ill.

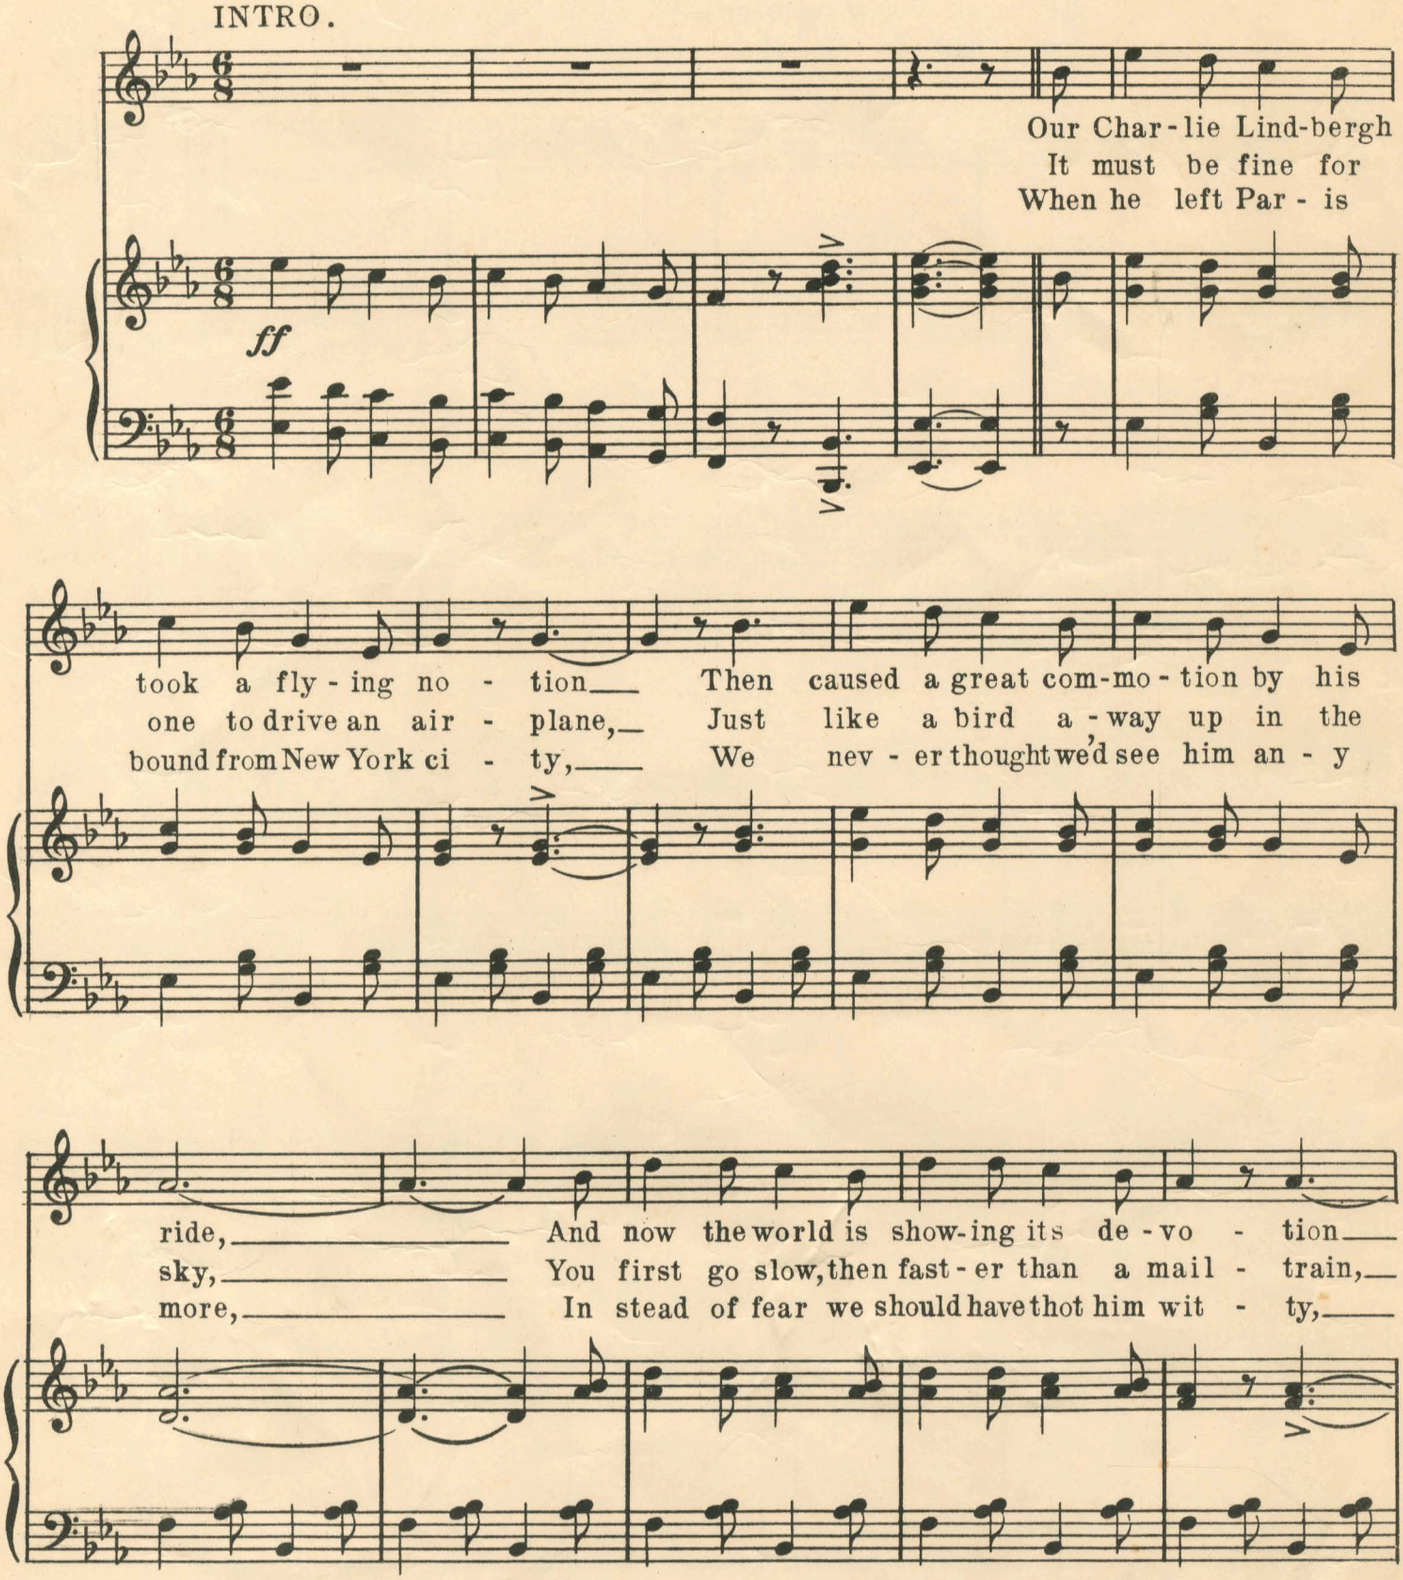
Ocean Sky Lark

MARCH SONG

Words by
PEARL L. COLVIN

Music by
HARRY JAY

INTRO.



Our Char - lie Lind-bergh
It must be fine for When he left Par - is ff took a fly - ing no - tion___ Then caused a great com-mo - tion by his one to drive an air - plane,_ Just like a bird a - way up in the bound from New York ci - ty,___ We nev - er thought we'd see him an - y ride,_____ And now the world is show-ing its de - vo - tion___ sky,_____ You first go slow, then fast - er than a mail - train,__ more,_____ In stead of fear we should have thot him wit - ty,___

Copyright MCMXXVII by Pearl L. Colvin
International Copyright Secured Printed in U. S. A.

For the boy that flew a - cross the o-cean wide. Our But on - ly brave boys have the nerve to try, You For now he is the one that we a - dore. Be - Lind-bergh now de - serves a lot of cred - it, Be - cause he did what brought the French-man on the run that morn - ing, And ev - 'ry one took fore I'm thru I'd like to tell the na - tion The thing that ev - 'ry oth - ers failed to do, For thir - ty three long hours, as we part in this great fun, And one by one they ven-tured in the one would like to do, For I can say with - out a hes - i - read it, He sailed a-way a-cross the o-cean blue;

dawn-ing, To steal a kiss from this brave moth-ers son.
ta-tion, The whole wide world is might-y proud of you.
CHORUS
Oh! Cap-tain Lind-bergh, you brave boy, You han-dle a plane like a child does a toy, You caused the world to shout with joy, Let's give three cheers to this true heart-ed boy.